

Tower/spire update – 2017 July 9 and 13

Here's our latest update on the tower/spire situation. It's brief and still quite general.

Further examination of the entire tower base needs to take place for the engineer's evaluation to be completed. That examination will take place in the next week or so.

Depending on the condition of the tower's base – in other words, how badly the timbers are rotted - it will be determined whether the tower needs to be completely demolished, or if the tower can be restored at a reasonable cost. Otherwise, bringing the tower down to a single level with a new roof will be pursued.
